

Cancellation Policy

In the case of registrants who are unable to attend in person due to forces outside their control (i.e., flight cancellation), we are unable to offer refunds for cancellation due to contractual obligations to our faculty. This includes optional add-ons, such as manuscript critiques or portfolio reviews.

However, all registrants will receive the benefits of and access to the virtual conference, which includes livestreamed keynote presentations and panel discussions and recordings. We also anticipate being able to send out the presentations of the breakout sessions, though this is pending faculty approval as some may contain intellectual property. Both virtual and in-person attendees will receive submission information for the acquiring faculty members, which will be sent out post conference.

If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to the conference registrars, Leigh Gaddy and Jackie Peveto, at registrar.rmc.scbwi@gmail.com.

Cancellation policy as of 7.15.22