

If you are a member of SCBWI (see scbwi.org under “About SCBWI/Levels of Membership” for details), have a children’s book you’ve authored or illustrated, and will be attending the Fall Conference on September 17-18, 2016, you can have one title included in the member book sale that weekend. Due to the popularity of this offering, the book table cannot accept books which have not been registered by Friday, August 12, 2016. There are no exceptions to this deadline to ensure books arrive on time. We also cannot sell books by members who will not be attending the conference.

BookBar

We are thrilled to have a new vendor this year! BookBar is a quaint, brick-walled bookshop & wine bar located in west Denver. Please note that BookBar will only be able to obtain books that are readily available, so some titles may have to be supplied by the author and sold on consignment. These include out of print titles and titles published by some smaller companies (Carrie Seidel will let you know if this is an issue as soon as she confirms the order). Per new SCBWI rules, if you are not on the faculty only one title may be submitted per attendee.

Do NOT contact BookBar directly for this event. All inquiries and requests regarding book sales should be sent to the Book Sales Coordinator (see “To Register for the Book Sale” below)

Title Limits

SCBWI has recently made changes to the policy allowing self-published and indie books to be sold at conferences and events. All non-faculty members who are attending the conference may sell ONE title through our conference bookstore, whether that title is traditionally published or independently published. You will need to be present for the 4:30pm-5:00 pm book signing on Saturday evening of the conference (Special circumstances? Please contact Carrie Seidel if you are unable to attend the signing). Due to the popularity of this offering, the book table cannot accept books which have not been registered by Friday, August 12, 2016. There are no exceptions to this deadline to ensure books arrive on time.

Special Instructions for Authors Selling Books on Consignment:

Once you have registered following the procedure above, please follow these steps:

1. Fill out the consignment form: click here for CONSIGNMENT AGREEMENT
2. Email consignment form electronically along with your registration request to whispurr_s@hotmail.com
3. BRING: all copies of your book to the conference no later than 7:45 AM on September 17th. Staff from RMC-SCBWI and BookBar will be there as early as 7:00 a.m. to check you in.
4. CHECK IN your books with staff at the book table. Copies will be counted with you before displaying them and you will be asked to initial the consignment form to confirm. RMC-SCBWI Book staffers will arrange the books. Please don't rearrange your books once they have been set up.
5. SALES. BookBar will handle ALL sales at the conference. No private sales by authors (or the author's spouse, children, grandmother, Golden Retriever, etc.) are allowed. This can create confusion and undermines the hard work BookBar does for our chapter.
6. RECONCILE BOOKS. At the end of the conference, the books will be recounted and authors and illustrators who have brought their own copies will receive a copy of the consignment form for their records. All remaining books must be picked up by the end of the conference. Any books that are not picked up will be donated to libraries or local charities.
7. RECEIVE PAYMENT. Once sales have been completely tallied (which may take a few weeks or more—please be patient), BookBar will send you a check for the total commission amount. Note: Books purchased and sold by BookBar at the conference will be reflected on authors' or illustrators' royalty statements and authors/illustrators will not receive payment for these sales from RMC-SCBWI or BookBar.
